

Producer Testimonial

New Horizons Dairy Matthew Van De Hey, Owner and Herd Manager

We had a fair number of calves that were not doing well and didn't have that spunk we're used to seeing. We decided to try First Arrival and now it's not something we'd stop anytime soon.

When we started using First Arrival, we saw a much higher percentage of calves maintain normal digestive health. Before, we saw some digestive setbacks around 1 to 2 weeks old. Now, they are non-existent.

With First Arrival, we notice our 6-month-old calves are bigger, eat more grain and have great overall health.

Honestly, with the amount of money you're saving on the medication you don't have to give, you're making money using First Arrival.

I would 100% recommend First Arrival. It's a great product. Once you start using it, you'll wonder how you went without using it in the past.
